

Student Council - The student council completed another successful spirit week. Students dressed in various themed outfits during the week which was captured by the yearbook staff which turned into a slide show to end the pep rally. The lip sync theme was musical artists and each grade gave an amazing performance. The senior class took home the well deserved victory with their Taylor Swift mashup. Throughout the week we had penny wars and collected $566 for the Special Olympics. This money will be part of our donation to the upcoming Polar Plunge in March.

Looking forward to our December events of Ugly Sweater Day, Staff appreciation breakfast, potluck dinner and pep rally before December break.

Copies of the book are available for students to borrow in the GHS library and families are invited to read along by borrowing books from Greenfield Public Library, who co-hosts these events. This film series is free and open to the public.

Library Club will also be taking a field trip to the Greenfield Public Library this week to get a tour of the new building and make candles in the makerspace.
